Lions and Wolves Loose in Chicago Streets.

CITIZENS GIVEN A BAD SOARE.

The Animals Captured After a Short Chase and Nobody Hurt—A Prohibition Escape of a Man from Death—Seven Loaded Cars Pass Over Him—A Hard-Headed Placard—"S. T. 1860 X."

CHICAGO, May 20.—Two gray wolves, a mountain lion and a panther had a brief spell of liberty Saturday, and for half an hour explored the streets of the north side at their will. Fortunately for the pedestrians the animals were shy and retiring disposition, and no one was attacked. About 9:15 o'clock Saturday evening the passenger train on the Chicago and Evanston railroad, due in the city at that hour, dashed along the tracks at the intersection of Division and Halsted street just as the wagons belonging to Gremier's circus were crossing.

Let the Animals Loose.
The train, drawn by engine No. 36, struck one of the vehicles loaded with wild animals and smashed it to atoms, throwing Enos Chamberlain, the driver, a distance of fifteen feet. He was stunned by the shock and lay unconscious on the ground, while the former occupants of the wagon, liberated from the various compartments, scattered in all directions. Their screams of terror and rage were taken up by the other animals in the other wagons, and a tremendous racket ensued. A panther and several other animals were stunned by the collision, but two large wolves, another panther and a mountain lion made a dash for liberty.

The wolves went down Division street at a brisk run, and sought shelter in an alley, where they were captured by the employees of the circus company. The panther and lion ran down the tracks to a lumber yard where they hid among the piles of lumber. There was some difficulty in finding them, and when they were finally discovered crouching on top of a lumber pile the panther was no easy matter. Lion captivity, however, had tamed them, and they finally succumbed to the influence of the whips and iron bars carried by the circus men, and submitted to imprisonment in another cage.

Citizens Had a Bad Scare.
The circus men took things as a matter of course, but the few citizens who caught sight of the beasts had a bad scare. Fortunately the district is not thickly populated and there were not many people on the street. Chamberlain, the driver of the wagon, sustained some severe bruises and a complete shaking up, but escaped without any more serious injuries.

YES, CHICAGO ROMANTIC.

Marriage of the Daughter-in-Law of Ex-Governor Beveridge, of Illinois.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 20.—The marriage here Saturday night of Hargis von Wrede, of Germany, and Mrs. Ella Morgan Beveridge, daughter-in-law of ex-Governor Beveridge, of Illinois, ends a romantic story. Fifteen years ago, when only 16 years old, Miss Morgan married Philip Beveridge, of Chicago, whose father was successively governor of the United States and assistant secretary of the treasury. The Morgans lived in a fine mansion on Calumet avenue. Philip Beveridge had two children, but about seven years ago his wife became ill, and she went to Europe with the children.

Tired of Her Husband.
She recovered her health, but soon got into fashionable society, and had no desire to return to her husband, who remained in Chicago. The two had no tastes in common, and soon Beveridge began to protest against the attentions which Baron von Wrede paid his wife. A divorce was granted, and she secured at Austin, Tex., on the ground of desertion. Mrs. Beveridge came here last December and the baron arrived a few days ago. The baron is second son, but his older brother is sickly, so that he has hopes of succeeding to the ancestral estates and several millions.

It Will Mean More Machines.
BRASIL, Ind., May 20.—The delegate convention of miners held here Saturday voted in favor of a strike, and will report to the miners at the various mines, when the strike will be formally declared. If a strike follows, as now seems likely, the outcome will be the introduction of additional machines.

Killed by a Blow on the Jugular.
NEW YORK, May 20.—James Grant Anderson, a printer, 21 years old, of 1 Patches Place, was instantly killed Friday night on Blooming street, near Christopher, during a fight with William J. Warren, a porter. Warren struck Anderson a blow on the jugular vein.

Heavy Damages from a Railroad.
MANSFIELD, Ohio, May 20.—Boyl M. Miller, who was at one time an engineer on the New York Lake Erie and Western railroad, obtained a verdict for $30,000 damages against that company Saturday afternoon for injuries he received in a wreck.

Jealousy Results in Suicide.
CLEVELAND, O., May 20.—A special from Findlay, O., states that John Bogard, of Van Sue, suicided with arsenic Saturday. He was to have been married in two weeks to Miss Lola Beck, and killed himself because she received calls from another gentleman.

Ten Millions Offered for a Brewery.
MILWAUKEE, May 20.—The English syndicate has offered $10,000,000 for the Blatz brewery of this city, and is trying to get options on other breweries.

A Mob of Lynchers Resisted.
NATCHES, Miss., May 20.—A mob tried to take from the jail at Harrisonburg, La., Friday night, W. A. Fighman, who killed a man named Dickinson, at Trinity, recently. The sheriff's posse resisted, and about thirty shots were exchanged. The only person wounded was a Troyville man named Goss.

Fashion is like the man in one of Le Sage's novels who was constantly changing servants, and yet had but one suit of livery, which every newcomer, whether he was tall or short, fat or thin, was obliged to wear.—Bulwer.

Lost—"I don't know where; I can't tell you; I don't see how—something of great value to me, and for the return of which I shall be truly thankful, viz: a good appetite."

In the Spring
Almost everybody wants a "spring tonic." Here is a simple testimonial, which shows how B. B. B. is regarded. It will knock your malaria out and restore your appetite.

SPLENDID FOR A SPRING TONIC.
ARLINGTON, Ga., June 30, 1887.
I suffered with malarial blood poison more or less, all the time, and the only thing that did me any good was B. B. B. It is undoubtedly the best blood medicine made, and for this malarial country should be used by every one in the spring of the year, and as good in summer, fall and winter as a tonic and blood purifier.

GIVES BETTER SATISFACTION.
CADIZ, Ky., July 6, 1887.
Please send me one box Hood's Balm Ointment by return mail, as one of my customers is taking B. B. B. for catarrh, and wants a box of snuff. B. B. B. gives better satisfaction than any medicine I ever sold. I have sold ten dozen in the past few weeks, and give good satisfaction. If I don't remit all right for snuff write me. Yours, W. N. BRANDON.

IT REMOVED THE PIMPLES.
ROUSE MOUNTAIN, Tex., March 29, '87.
A lady friend of mine has for several years been troubled with bumps and pimples on her face and neck, for which she used various cosmetics in order to remove them and beautify and improve her complexion, but these local applications were only temporary and left her skin in a worse condition. I recommended an internal preparation—known as Botanic Balm—which I have been using and selling about two years; she used three bottles and nearly all pimples have disappeared, her skin is soft and smooth and her general health much improved. She expresses herself much gratified, and can recommend it to all who are thus afflicted.
